

Imagine a church

Where, regardless of which leaders run particular programmes or activities, everyone in the church accepts a role in the discipleship of children and young people as members of one church family – one body of Christ.

encouraged to promote the importance of church involvement amongst their children and young people

Where families are:

encouraged to share their faith within the community they are part of disciples to engage their faith in every area of their lives loved and accepted disciples of Christ themselves integral to the life of a healthy church

Where children, young people and adults are:

encouraged to develop their faith and gifts in age-appropriate ways

Where leaders are:

required to be adequately trained and capable in safeguarding and child protection special to God and to us equal participants in all aspects of church life, vision and purpose valued individuals

sufficiently equipped to grow spiritually together

Where parents are:

encouraged to promote the importance of church involvement amongst their children and young people

Intergenerational Charter

With God's help we want to be such a church

We don't want to simply say a lot of words, stating empty promises, talking about how it could be.
Young through old, we want to see (church name) transformed for all ages today.
